

New Fiction

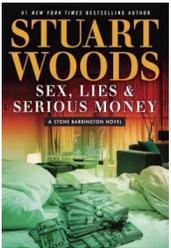

November 2016

Pharaoh : A Novel of Ancient Egypt

by Wilbur A Smith

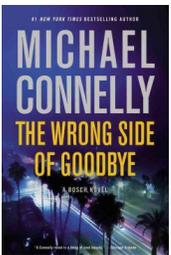

Royal advisor and former slave Taita is caught up in a whirlpool of ruthless intrigue that tests the limits of his intelligence, alchemy and cunning as he endeavors to protect the empire, his Pharaoh and those he loves.

Sex, Lies & Serious Money

by Stuart Woods

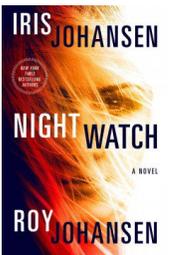

New York City cop-turned-Manhattan law-firm rainmaker Stone Barrington tackles a high-suspense case.

The Wrong Side of Goodbye

by Michael Connelly

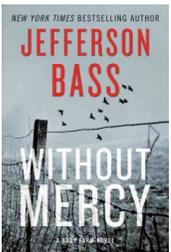

The award-winning author of such best sellers as The Crossing and The Burning Room presents a latest thriller starring irrepresible detective Harry Bosch.

Night Watch

by Iris Johansen

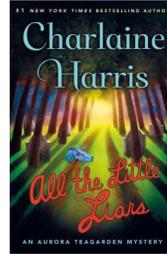

When the surgeon who made it possible for her to see goes missing, Kendra Michaels recruits government agent Adam Lynch to accompany her on a trail that leads to the snowy California mountains, where the discovery of one of the doctor's brutally murdered colleagues reveals the work of a killer.

Without Mercy

by Jefferson Bass

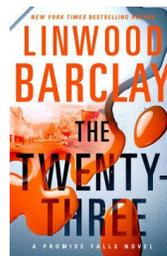

Investigating the most brutal and bizarre case of his career, forensic anthropologist Bill Brockton and his assistant, Miranda, are shocked by the prison escape of serial killer Nick Satterfield, who would destroy everything Brockton cares about.

All the Little Liars

by Charlaine Harris

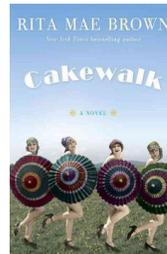

When four kids including her brother go missing from school and a dead body is found where they were last seen, a pregnant Aurora organizes a personal investigation that exposes the activities of a gang of bullies and her brother's gambling debts.

The Twenty-three

by Linwood Barclay

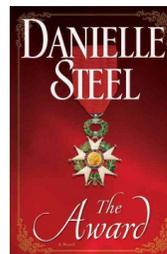

When hundreds of people are sickened by deliberately contaminated water in a small New York community's water supply, Detective Barry Duckworth scrambles to identify the culprit while investigating the murder of a college student whose crime scene disturbingly resembles those of two other victims.

Cakewalk : a novel

by Rita Mae Brown

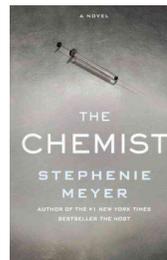

A post-World War I tale set in the Maryland community of Six of One finds residents split between belief systems on the Mason Dixon line, where free-thinking sisters Louise and Julia Hunsenmier and their indelible friends explore small-town sins and rivalries.

The Award

by Danielle Steel

Nearing 100 when she learns she will receive the Legion of Honor Medal, Gandle de Barbet experiences painful memories and healing when she relives her past as a World War II activist who risked her life to bring Jewish children to safety and to salvage France's great works of art.

The Chemist

by Stephenie Meyer

An ex-agent on the run from her former employers must take one more case to clear her name and save her life. By the #1 best-selling author of The Host and the Twilight series.

Fleming Branch
5020 Serena Drive
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Branch 4080 John Charles Boulevard
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca