

New Juvenile Fiction

October 2016

The Bronze Key

by Holly Black

A latest entry in the series that includes The Iron Trial and The Copper Gauntlet continues the good-versus-evil adventures of Callum Hunt, his Chaos-wolf, Havoc, and their companions in the magical world of the Magisterium.

Ghosts

by Raina Telgemeier

The multiple Eisner Award-winning creator of Drama presents the graphically illustrated story of Catrina, who moves to coastal Northern California in the hope that the climate will be better for her sick little sister and who learns that her new community is haunted.

The Hammer of Thor

by Rick Riordan

When Thor's hammer goes missing once again, Magnus Chase and his companions are challenged to retrieve the weapon from enemy forces that are threatening the Nine Worlds with an army of giants, an effort that requires an agreement with the demanding Loki.

The Wizard's Wand

by Geronimo Stilton

Summoned to the Kingdom of Fantasy when the Queen of the Fairies goes missing with three powerful magic objects, Geronimo Stilton teams up with magical friends for a harrowing journey.

Fuzzy

by Tom Angleberger

When Max befriends her new robot classmate Fuzzy, she helps him navigate Vanguard Middle School.

Dog Man

by Dav Pilkey

A new series by the creator of Captain Underpants follows the adventures of Greg the police dog who, after being injured on the job at the side of his police officer companion, makes history through a life-saving surgery that changes him into Dog Man.

Every Single Second

by Tricia Springstubb

Struggling with the feeling that her life is spinning out of control, 12-year-old Nella is shocked when her former best friend's brother makes a fatal mistake, prompting the need for Nella to choose between conflicting loyalties in a community torn by racial and class divides.

Curse of the Boggin

by D. J. MacHale

A debut entry in a spooky thriller series by the best-selling author of the Pendragon fantasy adventures depicts an otherworldly library where ghosts go to write their unfinished stories at the risk of being taken over by them.

The Secret Keepers

by Trenton Lee Stewart

Spending his days exploring the abandoned buildings near where he and his mother live after falling on rough times, Reuben discovers a mysterious pocket watch that gives him the power of invisibility.

Not As We Know It

by Tom Avery

Sharing common interests in spite of the cystic fibrosis that may separate them one day, twins Jamie and Ned discover a strange scaled animal on the beach and hide him in their garage.

Fleming Library
5020 Serena Drive
Beamsville, ON | 905.563.7014

Moses F. Rittenhouse Library
4080 John Charles Boulevard
Vineland, ON | 905.562.5711

www.lincoln.library.on.ca